

Feedback from G18 to G8

1. Really beautiful colors and charts. From my point of view, the colors may somehow similar and a little bit hard to distinguish at the first glance. Maybe divide different countries' team using similar colors and put player who were from same teams together will make sense. Cut down the amount of the colors may work.
2. Not really. How about point out the outstanding players, making their bars special.
3. Too much colors may make me feel confused, a little bit hard to understand so much information at one time
4. The applications of recruitment are very useful which is like a commercial product.
5. For the legend: maybe the visualisations become more self-explanatory if you use storytelling in the beginning (with data comics or infographics..?)

Improvements from feedback

1. Discussed flags to represent countries - may be confusing to viewers, and also constraint of time.
2. Future data gathering could give greater indication of which players are outstanding
3. Discussion of static legend and interactive information (mouse hover)
